Pure Evil

I make no apologies for again featuring the epidemic of child rape and molestation carried on in our major cities and towns by predominantly Muslim paedophiles. Not only is the scale of the crime being uncovered, but also the massive cover-up by police and social workers. Those whose job it was to protect our vulnerable children have failed massively, and we will not rest until they face the full force of the law!

Price Increase

I am sorry to announce that from issue 123 the price of a 4 issue subscription will increase from £6 to £7.50 for one copy and from £8.50 to £10 for two copies. We have been able to maintain the current subscription rates for several years, but another increase in printing and postage costs have now made the subscription increase unavoidable.

Good Luck .. Keep Safe

As we get ready to go to print, Britain and much of the World is in the deadly grip of Coronavirus.

Originating in a filthy street market in China, where hygiene standards were non-existent. Coupled with the absence of border controls, which is policy throughout the European Union has allowed the virus to spread like wildfire.

Thousands have already died, and many more will perish before we conquer the virus. At the moment, France, Spain and Italy are the worst effected, and now, after many have died, the EU has finally decided to re-impose some border controls. There are surely lessons to be learned?

In Britain, our government has this year, opened the door to a record number of non-EU migrants, (379,000) bolstered by a further 120,000 Chinese students scheduled to arrive in September.

More proof, if needed, that the government's immigration policy is more important to them than protecting the British people!

A New Year and More Muslim Paedophiles Face Jail !

After years of political correctness and complacency, Police have started to break up predominantly Muslim grooming gangs that have for years exploited vulnerable young White girls.

Just as 2019 was coming to an end, news broke that four members of a Muslim grooming gang from Telford, Shropshire have been jailed for sexual offences against a 13 year-old girl.

The victim, who is white, and classed as “vulnerable” was passed around “like a piece of Halal meat” between four Muslim men for over three years.

Birmingham Crown Court was told that over this period she was raped and forced to commit sex acts on the men. When she tried to resist she was violently abused. Throughout her ordeal she was told by the men that she was a “White Whore” and “White Trash”. One told her that as a “non-believer” she was not “human”. Clearly “racially aggravated” crimes.

The ring-leader, Mohammed Ali Sultan, aged 36 was jailed for 8 years for rape and sexual assault. He had already served prison sentences for two rapes and other offences against teenage girls.

Mohammed Rizwan, aged 37, was jailed for 5 years for indecent assault .

Shafiq Younas, aged 35 and Amjad Hussain, aged 38, were both jailed for four and a half years for indecent assault.

None of the men had their sentences enlarged on the basis of race hate!

Telford Paedophile Gang

Early in the New Year, on January 6th, sixteen Muslim men appeared at Bradford Magistrates Court accused of being part of a grooming gang that raped and sexually abused three girls aged between 13 and 16. Several of the men also face charges of supplying Class A and class C drugs.

All of the offences took place in the Halifax area over a three year period.

It was revealed that one of the men, Amjad Ditta, aged 35, is a serving police officer with the West Yorkshire Police service!

The police confirmed Ditta was a constable in the force’s Protective Services Operations Department, but was currently suspended from duty.

When they reappeared at the end of January, all of the men were given bail until they face a full trial at Crown Court in September.

Police Officer Amjad Ditta

Thirteen of the 16 accused entered pleas of not guilty, but Amjad Ditta, Nadeem Nassir, who faces charges of rape, supplying a class C drug and making threats to kill and Khalifa Mughal, 36, charged with six counts of rape, three counts of supplying a class C drug, supply of a class A drug and conspiracy to pervert the course of justice, did not enter a plea.

Britain First Leader Facing "Terrorism" Charges

On Thursday, the 27th of February, the leader of the Britain First Party, Paul Golding, appeared at Westminster Magistrates Court, charged with offences under the Terrorism Act of 2000.

Several months ago, Paul was stopped at Heathrow Airport and searched by Special Branch policemen. The police showed special interest in his mobile phone and laptop and demanded the machines pin-numbers so as they could read his private mail. Paul refused. This has led to charges being brought against him under the Terrorism Act of 2000.

On entering the court, Paul was greeted with cheers and calls of support from a large contingent of supporters in the public gallery.

On being asked to enter a plea, Paul replied, "not guilty. I am a politician, not a terrorist. This is politically motivated harassment"!

He was then remanded on bail to appear for trial on May 20th at Westminster Magistrates Court.

If Paul is found guilty he could face a substantial prison sentence and Britain First could be banned as a terrorist organisation

Westminster Council Rejects national Holocaust memorial next to Parliament

Westminster Council's planning committee have voted unanimously to reject plans to build a national Holocaust Memorial in Victoria Tower gardens, adjacent to Parliament saying it contravenes planning rules on size, design and location.

Victoria Tower Gardens

The issue has been rumbling on for five years since the government promised Britain's Jewish groups that a Holocaust Memorial could be built in Central London. Although this particular venue has now twice been rejected as unsuitable by both the council and the Royal Parks Authority, the final decision rests with the government. A public inquiry will take place in the Summer Communities Secretary Robert Jenrick released a statement before the meeting stating, "The Government remains implacably committed to the construction of a Holocaust Memorial right at the heart of our democracy alongside our national parliament. Future generations must never forget".

This statement seems to suggest the government will ignore the local council's vote.

NEWS AROUND BRITAIN

Immigration Hits New Record High

The government-funded, Office for National Statistics (ONS) has revealed that immigration into Britain from non-EU countries hit a record high. In the period September 2018 - 2019, 379,000 migrants arrived in Britain, intending making it their new home.

In addition, student numbers have increased, with the majority of non-EU students coming from China and India. In all, the Home Office issued 285,000 student visas, with 120,000 going to applicants from China, and 37,500 to applicants from India. In an effort to beat the registration deadline, 64,000 more EU citizens arrived in Britain to exercise their right to live here, than left to return to the EU.

In addition, a further 20,000 people were granted either Asylum or permission to stay in Britain on humanitarian grounds, in the last calendar year. This was an increase of 64% on the 2018 figures and demonstrates the weakness of our Asian Home Secretary, Pritti Patel.

General Election

Now Purge Labour of Anti-Zionists Jewish Groups Demand

Following its disastrous performance in the recent General Election, and the resignation of Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn, groups of British Jews are demanding that Labour's next leader drives out anti-Zionist Corbyn supporters from the party.

Jonathan Goldstein, chairman of the Jewish Leadership Council has demanded that Jeremy Corbyn's successor as Labour leader should "drive out" Corbyn's supporters and put an end to anti-Semitism in the party.

It is not known how long Mr Goldstein has been a member of the party, if indeed he is, but his comments are bound to cause further resentment among party members. He also called for members to have the will to take on the UNITE trade union, describing it as "part of the problem, not part of the solution".

At the time of writing, there are three leadership candidates left in the race, Keir Starmer, Lisa Nandy and Rebecca Long-Bailey. Emily Thornberry, despite being a member of the "Labour Friends of Israel" and recently writing to the Jewish News saying the party "should get on our knees and ask forgiveness" from the Jewish Community, failed to get enough support and was eliminated.

At the end of a specially convened "hustings" meeting, the Jewish groups endorsed Lisa Nandy as their preferred new leader. This came as a surprise to many especially as she had previously been a prominent member of the "Labour Friends of Palestine".

Keir Starmer, who has recently taken to remind one and all that his wife is Jewish, took second place, and the Corbyn supporter and fervent anti-Zionist, Rebecca Long-Bailey finished third.

To emphasise its demand for subservience, the Jewish Board of Deputies issued all the leadership candidates with a list of 10 "pledges" in order to "begin healing its relationship with the Jewish community" after the crisis of anti-Semitism.

The pledges include:

- Provide no platform for those who have been suspended or expelled for anti-Semitism
- The full adoption of the IHRA definition of anti-Semitism "with all its examples and clauses and without any caveats"

- To deliver anti-racism education programmes that have been approved by the Jewish Labour Movement, which would lead training
- To engage with the Jewish community via its "main representative groups" and not through fringe organisations" such as Jewish Voice for Labour
- To replace "bland, generic statements" on anti-Jewish racism with "condemnation of specific harmful behaviours"
- For the Labour leader to take personal responsibility for ending the "anti-Semitism crisis"

** Note: anti-Zionism is now called "anti-Jewish racism".

The adoption of these pledges by the next Labour leader will cause massive "in-fighting" between the new leader and the ruling National Executive Council. Handing over so much power to pro-Israeli groups, who are but a tiny minority in the party, will generate massive resentment amongst the membership and the Trade Unions. One would almost think that this is a deliberate plan to disrupt the Labour Party for years to come.

Surely Not?

Not all Jews are Zionists

New Grooming Scandal

Manchester Police Turned "blind-eye" to Muslim Grooming

Political Correctness First !

A predominantly Muslim grooming gang was free to roam the streets of Manchester and abuse young girls, because police officers were told to "find other ethnicities" to investigate, a detective GMP detective turned whistleblower, Maggie Oliver has claimed. Following a two-year inquiry, commissioned by Greater Manchester mayor Andy Burnham, into the historic failings of police and social workers, a report was published recently which concluded that vulnerable girls in care were groomed and abused in "plain sight".

Ignored Muslim Child Abusers

At least 57 young girls are thought to have been exploited by a paedophile network of around 100 suspected perpetrators based in south Manchester in the 2000s. The gang, mainly comprised of Asian Muslims, hooked their victims on drugs, groomed, and sexually abused them. One girl, Victoria Agoglia aged 15, died after being injected with heroin by a 50-year-old Asian man who had been sexually abusing her since she was 12 years-old.

Victoria Agoglia. A 15 year-old victim

Operation Augusta was set up in 2004 and uncovered the systematic exploitation of children mainly in the care system in the city of Manchester and around the Rochdale area.

The report, An Assurance Review of Operation Augusta was, written by child protection specialist Malcolm Newsam CBE and former senior police officer Gary Ridgway. It finds that some victims told carers and police officers about the sexual assaults, giving names and addresses, but no action was taken. It concludes: "The authorities knew that many were being subjected to the most profound abuse and exploitation but did not protect them from the perpetrators."

In the aftermath of the report, the former GMP detective Maggie Oliver said "I want the law changing so there can be retrospective accountability for people whose duty it is to protect the vulnerable.

It's knowing and deliberate neglect ion of duty... [Those who were involved] should be charged with gross misconduct

- it's criminal, - where is the accountability?

Local media have shown some interest in the problem and their reaction might prompt some activity.

But don't count on it!

Look Back at History

WORTHING: “Munich of the South”

By Paul Armstrong

Worthing, sleepy old Worthing. Like many of our south coast resorts, Worthing is now in a state of semi-genteel retirement. Middle class pensioners wheel their shopping trolleys along, oblivious to the drug dealers hanging out on the street corners. Craft beer 'pop-up' bars nestle up alongside traditional 'greasy-spoon' cafes - "Full English All Day! As much tea as you can drink". Well you can't knock that.

Today it is difficult to imagine that in the 1930s Worthing got the moniker "Munich of the south". How did this happen? On 31 March 1930 Colonel Charles Bentinck Budd was elected to the Offington ward of West Sussex County Council. Later that year Budd, who lived at 'Greenville', Grove Road, was elected to the Town Council as the Independent representative of Ham ward in Broadwater. At an election meeting on 16 October 1933, Budd revealed he was now a member of the British Union of Fascists. This didn't stop him being duly re-elected, and the national press reported that Worthing was the first town in the Country to elect a Fascist councillor. Thus Worthing became the "Munich of the south" and Budd became the BUF Administration Officer in Sussex.

On Friday 1 December 1933 the BUF held its first public meeting in "a crowded to capacity" Old Town Hall, and by 4 January 1934 Budd reported that over 150 people in Worthing had joined the BUF. Twenty-two days later (26/1/34), William Joyce, 'the mighty atom', addressed 900 people at the Pier Pavilion. In his speech he pledged to free British Industry from foreigners "be they Hebrew or any other form of alien", and ended with: "Reclaim what is your own in the fullness of Fascist victory!"

Soon the BUF had a headquarters in Anne Street, and the Fountain public house (now the Slug and Lettuce) in South Street, and Mitchell's Cafe, Royal Arcade, were considered Fascist meeting places. Even the Conservative Mayor of Worthing was favourably impressed by the Blackshirts, and congratulated them on the disciplined way they had marched through the streets. He reported employers in the town had written to him giving their support for the BUF, and they had "no objection to their employees wearing the black shirt even at work; and such public spirited action on their part was much appreciated".

The "Fountain" Public House

So far so good, but the forces of reaction were busy organising. John Robert Prayer, the son of refugees, his wife Harriet, Worthing's first Labour councillor, Charles Barber, and Roy Nicholls, chairman of the Young Socialists were founders of an anti-Fascist alliance. They had already leafleted outside the William Joyce meeting, and intended to unite opposition from "the liberal and democratic bodies of the town..." (ie 'the usual suspects!').

WORTHING: "Munich of the South"

There are conflicting reports of what happened after the meeting, but what can be established is that Mosley and his followers faced a mob of 2,000 thugs as they left the Pavilion, with less than 16 police in evidence. The mob chanted "poor old Mosley's got the wind up", but this didn't stop "poor old Mosley" getting involved in the fighting as the BUF battled to get to Mitchell's Cafe, where they barricaded themselves inside. Mitchell's Cafe was repeatedly attacked, suffering considerable damage. Between 11pm and mid-night the Fascists broke out in an attempt to get to their HQ in Anne Street. Fighting against overwhelming odds they moved along South Street to the junction of Warwick Street, under consistent attack until they reached Market Street. Strangely the "Battle" ended here when a large number of Police appeared, and to the cheers of the mob, arrested Mosley, Joyce, Budd (pictured on the right) and Bernard Mullins, a Black shirt from Chelsea.

Mitchell's Café. The Arcade, Worthing

Their trial took place on 14 November at Lewes Court of Assizes. A number of eye witnesses came forward, saying that Mosley and his supporters had been threatened, attacked and pelted with missiles. The judge eventually directed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty".

The BUF continued to have a presence in Worthing, and were involved in a few more minor skirmishes. On 27 November 1935 Charles Budd resigned his position in Sussex, moving to Birmingham where he was appointed Inspecting Officer for the Midlands area, and a few months later became prospective, Parliamentary candidate for Ladywood, Birmingham.

When the war started he was one of the first 18b detainees.

Whilst researching for this article it was amusing that all the sites I visited described the BUF as thugs, when it was obvious that they were the victims of thuggery, and the fact that all damage to buildings before and during "the Battle" was caused by anti-Fascists was not criticised. I'm sure you can draw your own conclusions as to Colonel Charles Budd who controls these sites.

I will leave you with one final thought: At the meeting of 26/1/1934 William Joyce said - "The English are a great people but they are lacking a leader".

Oh dear, some things never change!

Hail Mosley !

OSTARA THE GODDESS OF SPRING

The traditional Festival of Spring and the Spring Solstice have largely vanished into the Christian festival of Easter, but what is the Festival of Spring and the Spring Solstice? Both of which were celebrated by our North European ancestors long before Christianity.

Ostara: The Goddess of Spring

Like many Christian festivals, Easter has its origins in Pagan times. As Christians celebrate the “re-birth” or resurrection of the founder of their religion, Jesus Christ, they were preceded by the Pagans of Northern Europe who honoured the Norse Goddess, “Ostara,” or “Eostre,” as she was known by the West Saxons. And, while the Christian festival of Easter is a moveable festival, occurring on various dates in March or April, the Pagan festival of Ostara, was determined by the date of the vernal, or spring equinox, when the position of the sun creates an astronomical phenomenon when day and night are of equal length. This always occurs on either March 20th or 21st. After the death of winter, spring brought longer days and the re-birth of the trees and plants in the North European forests and fields. The trees were budding, the birds nesting and the sun gathered strength day by day. “Mother Earth” was being “re-born”. It was a time for the planting of crops.

The animals of the forest were emerging and breeding, hares and rabbits were plentiful and birds began to lay their eggs. The Goddess Ostara (pictured right) was venerated as the divinity of the radiant dawn, and a bringer of fertility and growth. Bonfires were lit and feasting was held for two days.

As we approach the spring equinox, remember the Goddess Ostara, and the goodness she brings us mortals. Go into the woods and forests and see the proof for yourself, how the rules of nature are more powerful than the rules of man.

And give thanks!

The author is a member of an Essex-based Pagan group, and has studied and practiced various forms of Paganism for over 30 years.

OVERSEAS NEWS

Germany to Pay 4.5 million Euros to Renovate Dutch Holocaust Museum

The German government has pledged nearly 4.5 million euros towards renovating the Dutch National Holocaust museum in Amsterdam

The funding was announced by Emile Schrijver, director of Amsterdam's Jewish Cultural Quarter.

"We were pleasantly surprised as we only expected a donation of half a million or a million euros," Schrijver told Dutch media.

The National Holocaust Museum of the Netherlands opened in 2017 in a former religious seminary and has also taken over a nearby theatre.

In February, the museum will close down for two years for renovations meant to turn the theatre and seminary into a single museum with a larger capacity and state-of-the-art displays. The renovations will cost about 30 million euros. The Dutch government has allocated at least $6 million toward the project.

Minister Bans Combat 18

Germany's Interior Ministry have banned the German nationalist group Combat 18 on "race hate" grounds.

Interior Minister Horst Seehofer announced that in the opinion of the Minister, "the purpose of Combat 18 and its activities contravened Germany's constitutional law and order"

Following the decision, more than 200 police officers searched several properties belonging to leading members across six German states. Items recovered during the raids included mobile phones, laptops, Nazi memorabilia and propaganda materials.

Combat 18 are now considering a legal challenge to the decision.

When Britons Awake

By Paul Armstrong

In the understandable enthusiasm to see Brexit finally achieved, vast sections of the white working class deserted their traditional party, Labour, causing the so-called 'Northern Red Wall' to fall, but who gained?

In a campaign orchestrated by the Australian resident Issac Levido, we now have Alexander Boris de Pfeffl Johnson as Prime Minister (PM), leading a populist Conservative Government. With the strangely sinister, woolly-hatted, Machiavellian puppet master Dominic Cummings in the background, pulling the strings.

Boris Johnson (as he prefers to be known) is a man for all seasons, the Thomas More of the 21st century. Born in the USA of, amongst others, Muslim/Jewish heritage. Christened a Catholic but a convert to Anglicanism. (Interestingly Britain has never had a Catholic PM. BoJo an opportunist? I'll leave that decision up to you dear readers.) Two marriages, two divorces, numerous affairs and, according to Wikipedia, "at least 5 children". This man of limited integrity has already promised "till death us do part" to two now ex-wives, so how can we trust anything he says to us?

A "man of Limited Integrity"

As Joseph Goebbels said of Churchill "If you're going to tell a lie, tell a big one!" Johnson's hero is Churchill, let's make our own conclusions.!

For me a believer in the Corporate State, Capitalism and International Socialism are two sides of the same coin. If the white working class thinks either can get us out of the present malaise they are sadly mistaken. We live in the age of neoteny, perpetual adolescence, where the inconsequential becomes the mainstay of society. Who wins 'X Factor', 'Britain's Got Talent', 'Love Island' etc is far more important than the reality of our national debt running at 85 per cent of GDP. Our former, stable, disciplined way of life has been gradually eroded, and unfortunately, many of our folk have been sold, and bought, the easy alien culture of "sex, drugs and rock 'n' roll. First foisted upon us in the 1950's, today it is really taking its toll on our people. Divorce, separation, co-habitation, children born out of wedlock, absentee fathers, unknown fathers, alcoholism, drug dependency, benefits dependency. The sons and daughters of St George, on holiday abroad, lying in the gutter too "out of it" to see the stars. What will the Tories, or any of the "old gangs" do to reverse this trend?

As ever, a lot of hot air and false promises!

At this moment in Britain, whether politicians, press, media etc are of the left, right or centre, our white working class has become their obsession, this year's model, someone to care about. They've all become quasi-Marxist class warriors, AND this, for me, is the worrying thing. You would have to be an idiot to think the white working class do not have very serious issues that need addressing. Unemployment, housing, immigration, minimum wage, zero hours contracts. But these problems can only be solved by our folk working together, regardless of class, under the umbrella of the Corporate State.

Divide and rule?

That won't work anymore when we Britons awake and embrace the Corporate State!

Dear Reader,

Just a short note from the League Sentinel team.

Britain and much of Europe is in the grip of the Coronavirus, closing businesses and disrupting lives. The printer of Sentinel was an early victim of the virus although thankfully it was not fatal. Friends volunteered to help in getting Sentinel printed and we are eternally grateful for their efforts. Despite their hard work, I would be the first to admit that this issue is a bit below our normal standard, and apologise for that.

Other aspects of our work have also been disrupted. The banking of your cheques and postal orders now has to be done less frequently as is the dispatch of some book and badge orders. We are sorry if this causes any inconvenience. Hopefully things will soon back to normal. In the meantime please do your best to stay safe and virus free.

We are also sorry to announce an increase in the price of a Sentinel subscription.

This is the first increase in prices for several years. We have managed to absorb increases in postage and printing costs over the years but recent increases in printing and postal charges mean we can no longer maintain the current price.

Both categories of subscription are increased by £1.50. So a four issue subscription rises from £6 to £7.50 ( 1 copy) and from £8 to £10 ( 2 copies).

Finally we would like to welcome Paul Armstrong to our small team of staff writers. Paul has written for several nationalist publications over the years and is a firm supporter of Mosley's "Europe a Nation" vision.

Welcome aboard!
